A new friend

Last month I started a new school. I didn't know anyone, but one girl in my new class was very friendly. She was called Sara. She started talking to me at lunchtime. We talked about clothes and music. It was amazing because we both liked the same things. Then I showed her some photos of my family and my pets. She loved the photos of my animals! After that, I invited her to my house and we were soon good friends. I was very happy!
