Section 5: Reading Part ARead the article. Then choose the correct words to complete the statements.*Are Best Friends Alike?

Some people say that best friends are often alike. They like similar activities and they like the same things. They can sometimes look alike. But other people say that's not true. Best friends have different tastes and looks. Let's look at two pairs of best friends and see what is true.

People have no problem telling Mark and Shaun apart. Mark is short and good-looking. He has dark, curly hair and brown eyes. Shaun is taller than Mark and his hair is a lot lighter and longer. He has a mustache and he's less handsome than Mark. However, they both have the same taste in clothes. They like wearing black jeans and t-shirts. They are outgoing and like social situations, but everyone says Shaun is funnier than Mark. Shaun reads a lot, but Mark is more athletic. He likes running and cycling.

Laura and Christine are very good friends, and they look alike. Sometimes, their friends can't tell them apart. They are the same age and even have the same birthday – October 14! They both have medium-length, black hair and dark brown eyes. They dress alike in pants and sweaters. That's where the similarities stop! Laura is very shy. She tends to be quieter when with larger groups of people. But Christine is more outgoing. She likes going to concerts and meeting new people. She loves rock music, but Laura doesn't like concerts or rock music. She likes to listen to classical music at home.

You can see that Mark and Shaun, and Laura and Christine, have similarities and differences. We think this is the same around the world. Best friends aren't friends because they are alike or because they are different. Sometimes it's good to have similar tastes. Other times it's good to have different tastes. Then friends can talk about their differences.

30. Best friends are (always / sometimes / never) alike.
