It's Better by Train

Why do people travel by air when a train is so superior? At an airport, you wait for hours in lines. You wait for a boarding pass. You wait to go through security. You wait to board a plane that has hundreds of seats — but only one door! You wait to take off and you wait to land.

It's so much easier with trains. A train station is always in the city and easy to get to. Airports are usually outside the city. It takes so long to get to them that you spend more time going to the airport than you do on the plane! You spend less time waiting at a train station. There are lots of seats on a train, but also many more doors. It takes minutes for everyone to board a train and your seat is quicker to locate.

Trains are much more comfortable than planes! The seats are bigger and you get a big table for your laptop, your food and your drinks. You can open a window and breathe the air. On a train, you can stretch your legs — take a walk to the restaurant car, maybe? You can order a drink from a menu and chat with other passengers. It feels like you're enjoying some time in a café that is traveling at 100 miles an hour! Watch as it takes you away!

And that's the best thing about train travel — the view! On a plane, you just watch the ground get smaller until all you can see are clouds. But on a train, you go slowly through the city. Then, as you leave the city behind, you can watch the scenery pass by your window. It's much better than TV!

So, the next time you want to travel, think about the best way to get to your destination. Do you want all of the hassles of planes, or the hassle-free travel on trains?
