Subject: Help me!

Aunt Sonya, please help me! I want to go to my best friend's house for the weekend. I always have a great time when I go there. Her family is really nice and we have so much fun. We're very excited about the weekend. Unfortunately, I have a fever and a stomachache. I'm sure it's nothing serious, but Mom says I shouldn't go. What do you think I should do, Aunt Sonya? Can I go to her house for the weekend? I need your advice! Love, Fiona.

Hi, Fiona. I'm sorry you feel sick. But the question is, "Should I go?" not "Can I go?" Your mom is right! I have the same advice— if you're unwell, you should stay at home and rest. I'm sure you'll feel better soon. Maybe you can go to your friend's house next weekend. Feel better! Love, Aunt Sonya.

Well, Neil, do you think you can learn to paint before the exhibit? I don't think so! You know what I'm going to say. You should tell your teacher that you can't paint. Then he can find another person to do it. You know what you need to do, Neil! I bet there's something different you can do to help your teacher. Just ask him! Love, Dad.

Section 5: Reading Part B

Read the article. Then choose True, False, or No information.

Why are some friends completely different?

We often think friends are alike. They often have similar tastes and like the same activities. Some friends even dress the same! But some friends are actually very different. Read about two sets of friends who are different in many ways.

Katya and Sue are good friends, but they have very different personalities. Katya is intelligent, outgoing, and funny. She likes reading books and studies hard for school. She wants to be a doctor. She loves going to the theater. Sue is athletic and plays a lot of sports. She works in a gym and doesn't like to study. She's very shy and likes to stay at home in the evenings. She doesn't like going to the theater—she prefers watching movies. Katya and Sue say they have a lot to talk about because their lives are very different.

Pablo and Kevin dress alike, but that's the only similarity the friends have. Pablo plays the guitar in a heavy metal band. Kevin doesn't like heavy metal. He only listens to classical music. Kevin only eats healthy, low-fat food, and he doesn't eat meat or fish. But Pablo eats a lot of unhealthy food and has meat with every meal. They never cook together! Pablo loves social situations, but Kevin tends to be quiet when he's with a group of people. Pablo says he likes Kevin's personality and it's never a problem that they like different things. But Kevin doesn't always agree. He says the differences can sometimes be a problem—but he still likes his friend! They always have a lot to talk about, even though they are so different.

You can see that friends can be completely different—but they're still good friends because their differences give them a lot to talk about.
