The Diner $

The Diner is your restaurant for a very simple breakfast. The menu has different plates, but most involve eggs cooked in different ways, bread, and meats. This restaurant is fast, cheap, and simple. The good news is that every plate comes with a drink: you can choose from coffee, tea, juice, or milk. One important thing to note: if you don't like sweet coffee, be sure to ask for coffee with no sugar. If you don't say "no sugar," your coffee or tea will be very sweet.

Dad's Omelets $$$

The name of this restaurant says it all! The menu is simple: you choose an omelet, and then pick your own ingredients, such as meat, cheese, or vegetables. It's easy! You can choose the ingredients in your omelet from a list. If you choose one with breakfast meat, be careful: it might be spicy! In our opinion, the potatoes are too salty, and they are cooked in too much oil. Other than that, the food is delicious. We usually order a garden omelet with onions, tomatoes, peppers, and cheese. Prices? This restaurant is a little too expensive for what you get.

Garden-to-Table Brunch $$$$

Have you heard of the new popular meal, brunch? It's a fantastic combination of breakfast and lunch. People in our city love to go out for brunch on the weekends. Prepare to spend an hour or two here. You'll need some time just to read all the specials: the chef develops five or six specials every weekend, depending on the fresh food coming in from neighboring gardens and the restaurant's very own garden. Everything on the menu is completely fresh. You'll find breakfast favorites with different specials, including eggs, cheeses, potatoes, vegetables, breads, and meats. There's usually a quiche on the menu, like our favorite in the photo, and it's always excellent. Every plate also comes with a delicious fruit salad. Treat yourself!
