Every fall, CLASS CHAT interviews new teachers preparing for their first day of school. Read the interview with preschool teacher Lena Durham.

CC: I'm talking today with Lena Durham. Lena is a new teacher starting school this Monday. Lena, how are you feeling about the first day of school?

LD: I'm really excited! I love teaching, and I can't wait to have my own classroom.

CC: So, what ages are your students?

LD: I'm a preschool teacher. My students are ages three to five.

CC: Wonderful! Preschool is so important. So, how are you preparing for the school year to start?

LD: Of course, I'm preparing my lessons and materials. I'm thinking of fun games to start class. Sleep is really important; it takes a lot of energy to teach preschool! So, I'm going to bed early every night, and I'm getting up early every morning.

CC: So, are you reading and studying a lot?

LD: Only about an hour a day. I'm exercising, too. I'm going bike riding in the mornings after breakfast. Then I work on my lessons. I eat a big lunch, and then I read or visit friends or go shopping.

CC: That's great! It sounds relaxing.

LD: I definitely want to be relaxed for the big day!

CC: Lena, we wish you the best of luck this Monday.

LD: Thanks so much!
