Read the article. Then choose the correct answer to each question.

Whose House for the Holidays?

Families have a lot of decisions to make about the holidays. One we usually get questions about is where to celebrate. The Taylor family is asking about it this year. What are their houses like?

The Family

The Taylor family is the mom, Claudia, the dad, William, their oldest daughter, Jenny, age 24, their younger daughter, Gwen, age 16, and their son, Oliver, age 12. Jenny has a new house on her own. This is her first holiday in her new house.

Mom and Dad's House

Claudia and William love to celebrate. William puts lights all over the house, and Claudia makes a big holiday dinner for twenty family members in her large kitchen. Their house is very big, so they can invite a lot of people. The living room has two sofas and four chairs and still has room for a big holiday tree. There are nice rugs all over, especially in front of the fireplace where people like to sit and drink hot chocolate on cold nights. The dining room has a very big table, with room for twenty chairs. Upstairs, the house has five bedrooms, so there is room for guests from out of town to stay with them.
