Unit 1

1.1 Hi from Australia

N = Nicola, D = Dad, M = Mum

N Hi Dad!

D Hi Nicola!

N Wait a moment, I'm just making myself a cup of tea. Ahh! That's better – it's seven o'clock in the morning here.

D Sorry love, I always forget that you're 11 hours ahead. Your mum has just gone upstairs to get her glasses. She'll be here in a sec. Jackie, come on – Nicola hasn't got all day.

N It's OK, Dad. It's Saturday, so no rush! I'm exhausted! I've been getting things ready for our annual sales conference next week at work, so I deserve some 'me time', and I haven't spoken to you guys for ages!

D You look tired, love. Don't work too hard. Anyway – how are the children? They look so grown up in those holiday photos you put on Facebook.

N They're fine. Ollie is studying for his Year 12 Certificate. He hopes he'll be accepted at the University of Melbourne next year. Becky has been chosen to play for her school netball team – she's so pleased. How are you and Mum? Where is she? I want to speak to her, too.

D She's getting a bit deaf. I'll shout louder. JACKIE, COME ON! IT'S NICOLA! Now, where was I? We're both fine. We went on holiday last month, but we just stayed at an Airbnb in Brighton to get some sea air. We're saving up to come and see you at Christmas. I didn't realize how expensive flights are. At last! Here's your mum. Jackie, what have you been doing all this time?

M I'm sorry, I couldn't find my glasses. Hi Nicola, sweetheart! You look tired. I wish I could give you a big hug.

N Me too, Mum, but not long now before you and Dad are here. Make sure you don't forget your glasses! You forgot them last time you visited!

M I won't forget them this time, promise! Now, love, tell us how you are, and my lovely grandchildren

3.5 Sounds and letters don't agree

When the English tongue we speak,

Why does break not rhyme with weak?

Won't you tell me why it's true

We say sew, but also few?

And the maker of a verse

Cannot rhyme his horse with worse?

Beard is not the same as heard.

Cord is different from word,

Cow is cow, but low is low,

Shoe is never rhymed with foe.

Think of hose and dose and lose

And think of loose and yet of choose,

Think of comb and tomb and bomb

Doll and roll and home and some.

And since pay is rhymed with say

Why not paid with said, I pray?

Think of blood and food and good;

Mould is not pronounced like could.

Why is it done, but gone and lone?

Is there any reason known?

To sum up, it seems to me

That sounds and letters don't agree.

L = Luke, K = Kenny, A = Anna

- L Hi guys. How do you think you've done in the exam?
- K I don't know. Fingers crossed, because I need an A to get into university.
- L Me too. Hey, I wonder what we'll all be doing ten years from now!
- K What, when we're 30? Well, I hope to have written a best-selling novel by then. What about you?
- L Ah, hopefully, I'll be a pilot – I'll have passed all my flying exams and I'll be flying 380s all round the world.
- A That sounds exciting!
- L It will be. But what about you, Anna?
- A Well, hopefully, I'll be living in New York in a luxury apartment – so, you can visit me there!

Workbook Audioscript

- L Really? What will you be doing in New York?
- A Well, I'm going to be a top lawyer for a leading New York law firm. Easy!
- K New York? Why live in an overcrowded, polluted city? I'll be living somewhere peaceful and beautiful, and I'll have earned enough money by then to buy a beautiful cottage in the country. My best-selling novel will have been a huge success and I'll be writing my second one.
- A Oh, that sounds boring to me. I'd go mad living in the country – too many cows! I'll be partying with the cool set in rooftop bars overlooking the city.
- L I agree with Anna: the country is for sheep and cows! But I will visit you, Kenny, if you have a champagne book launch in London.
- K Who says I'll be inviting you? I'll have made loads of famous friends by then.
- A Come on guys, enough about our exciting futures! We have to pass these exams first, or we'll be taking them again in a year's time!

5.4 What does John say?

- 1 It's going to rain.
- 2 I'll get her a present.
- 3 I'm going to study hard for my final exams.

- 8 My plane takes off at 7.30 next Sunday.
- 9 This time next week, I'll be lying on a beach in Spain.
- 10 I think it's going to be hot there.

5.5 An inspirational teenager

I = Interviewer, S = Sasha

- I Hello Sasha. It is good of you to be interviewed today, as I know you have a busy training schedule.
- S That's OK. I'm taking a couple of days off anyway as it's my birthday tomorrow. I'm going to be 18 – an adult at last.

- I Only 18 and you've accomplished so much already! You won a bronze medal at the European Championships last year, and I know you'll be hoping to win gold at the next Olympics.
- S That's my dream. I'll never give up until I've done all I can to achieve it. That's what keeps me going through the hours of training. I keep telling myself it'll be worth it if I win gold. Failure isn't an option.
- I You're very tough on yourself, Sasha. That's a lot of commitment and hard work. You're still young. Surely you must spend some time with friends?
- S No, gymnastics is everything to me. I'll have been training intensively for six years by the next Olympics, and every minute of practice helps.
- I The World Championships are being staged in Germany next year. How are you preparing?
- S Well, I'm good at the pommel horse and the parallel bars, so by the time the Championships start, I'll have concentrated on them the most. I think the bars will be my best event.
- I Will you be hoping for a medal?
- S Yes, I will. Maybe silver or bronze.
- I You're such a good role model for young people today. Do you have any advice for other young hopefuls?
- S Yes. Never lose sight of your dream. If you work hard, you will be successful.
- I Thank you, Sasha. Good luck, and happy birthday for tomorrow.

5.6 Correct the mistakes

- 1 A Have you heard? Sue's going to have a baby.
B Really? I'll give her a ring this evening to congratulate her.
- 2 A What are you doing this weekend?
B I don't know yet. Maybe I'll give Paul a ring and see what he's doing.
- 3 A I'll be honest with you, Matthew. I don't think you're going to pass this exam.
B Oh, no! What am I going to do?

Workbook Audioscript

- 4 A Is it true that Rachel is going to the States to work as a nanny?
B Yes, and guess what! I am, too!
- 5 A Our plane leaves at six o'clock on Saturday morning.
B You'll have to wake me up. I can never get up in the mornings.
- 6 A It's my birthday tomorrow. I'm going to be 30!
B 30! That's ancient! You'll be getting your pension soon.
- 7 A My parents will be arriving soon, and the house looks like a pigsty.
B Don't worry. It'll only take a few minutes to clear up.
- 8 A Will you be going skiing as usual after Christmas?
B Not this year. It's just too expensive. We'll stay at home.
- 9 A I'll ring you as soon as I arrive.
B Please do. We'll be waiting to hear you've arrived safely.
- 10 A Are you going to Sam's party on Friday?
B Yeah, unless I get held up at work.

5.7 Common verbs with take and put

Kerry and Daisy at Stage School

K = Kerry, D = Daisy

- K Hi Daisy. Are you thinking of taking part in that acting competition? Second prize is tickets for Emma Watson's new film. You're a big fan of hers, aren't you?
- D She's my heroine. I think she's just brilliant. If she puts her mind to it, she can do anything.
- K Aren't you putting her on a pedestal? She was OK in the Harry Potter films, but she's not that great.
- D What? She's done so much more than Harry Potter. She took up modelling and won a People's Choice Award for her latest film.
- K Pretty impressive stuff, I suppose. Hasn't she got a degree in English, too?

- D She certainly has. She took some time off to promote her films, but she went back and completed her degree at Brown University.
- K OK, sorry – I take back what I said. It's not fair, is it? Some people have all the luck.
- D Oh, Kerry! Take it easy on yourself. You've been offered a part in Chicago. It's one of the best musicals ever. I think your acting career is about to take off!
- K It's not a very big part. I'm just in the chorus.
- D Don't put yourself down. If you put in enough effort you'll become a star. You've got a great singing voice, too. At least they took you on. That's an achievement in itself!
- K You're right, Daisy. Do you really think I have a good voice?
- D Yeah, I do. Our music coach has really taken to you. She thinks you've got real promise. You'll be famous one day.
- K We both will! Come on! Let's put our names down for this competition.
- D And if one of us wins, they'll have to take the other out for a meal.
- K Deal!

6.4 Words with variable stress 2

Good evening. Here is the news.

Oil imports have continued to increase at a fast rate in the last quarter. As a result, the government has refused to permit any further increases – however, demand for transport fuel is at record levels, and members of the transport workers' union have objected to the ruling, insisting that they will protest against any future sanctions. They have presented a report maintaining that the present rise in imports is due to a decrease in investment in railway transport by the government.

6.5 Words with variable stress 3

The number of tax refunds is on the increase, since the tax office has been experiencing problems with its new computer system. The problem came to light when so many businesses contested their latest bills. Tax officers have protested against the criticism, saying that they are insulted by the suggestion that they are to blame. They say that the present problems only started when the IT contract was placed with a new company, and they can produce records to show this.

11.2 Mary's disastrous day

Last Sunday night, Mary forgot to set her alarm, so she overslept and was an hour late for work.

Mary's boss, Sally Collins, called her in to the office and told her that because she was late she couldn't go on a planned business trip to New York the following week. Sally said that she'd decided to send a more reliable person. Mary was so upset about missing her business trip that she locked herself in the ladies' toilet and cried her heart out. Also, she completely forgot that she had arranged to meet her boyfriend, Ben, for lunch at an Italian restaurant. Eventually, she dried her eyes and returned to her desk. She looked at her computer screen, but it was totally out of focus. Then Mary realized what had happened. The computer was all right, but she wasn't. She'd lost one of her contact lenses in the toilet.

At last the day ended. Without her contact lens, Mary had to get the bus home because she couldn't see to drive. She waited at the bus stop for over an hour in the pouring rain and didn't get home until eight o'clock. Then she realized she had a missed call from Ben. She listened to her voicemail. Ben was very angry and reminded her that this was the third time she had forgotten to meet him. He said that she clearly didn't care for him and that was the end of their relationship. Mary was heartbroken. In tears for the second time that day, she decided to go to bed before anything else could go wrong. However, she forgot to feed the cat. The next day, with a streaming cold, she went downstairs to make herself a cup of tea and found bird feathers everywhere. The poor cat had resorted to desperate measures to get food. It had eaten the budgie! Mary went back to bed and pulled the covers over her head.

11.3 Mary's disastrous day – conversation

M = Mary, B = Ben

M Hi Ben. I'm so sorry. Everything went wrong for me yesterday. The last straw was when I found the cat had eaten the budgie. And in a way that was your fault!

B What? What on earth are you talking about?

M Well, if you hadn't ended our relationship, I would have remembered to feed the cat.

B So it's my fault the budgie's dead? Come off it,

Mary! If you hadn't forgotten to meet me for lunch, I wouldn't have broken up with you. It was the third time! You obviously don't care about me at all, and I've had enough.

M But, but ... it was all Sally Collins' fault. If she hadn't cancelled my trip to New York, I wouldn't have been so upset and ... forgotten our date.

B So now it's Sally's fault. It's never your fault! But – why did she cancel your trip?

M Well, you see, I was late for work and ...

B I see – late again! Now I understand. If you hadn't overslept, all of this would never have happened.

M OK, OK, I suppose it is all my fault. But Ben, I'm soooo sorry, I really am ...

B And how come you have such a bad cold?

M Ah, well ... That's another story.

4 A How do you think the new Prime Minister will cope with this crisis?

B Well, it's her first big test, and it's going to be sink or swim for her. If she succeeds, it'll silence her critics once and for all, but I doubt she will. I think her time as leader might end up being short and sweet.

5 A Sometimes the food in this restaurant is amazing, other times it's not so good. It's a bit hit and miss.

B Yes, but by and large I always enjoy eating here.

6 A I'd love to learn all the ins and outs of car mechanics. I can change my oil and water, but that's about it!

B Well, you should do a course. It can all get pretty complicated!
