CHAPTER OVERVIEW

Longman Academic Writing Series, Level 4, Essays offers a carefully structured approach to high-intermediate academic writing. It features instruction on paragraph and essay organization, sentence structure, grammar, and the writing process.

NEW!

Four-color design makes the lessons even more engaging.

CHAPTER 8

ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAYS

OBJECTIVES

To write academic texts, you need to master certain skills.

In this chapter, you will learn to:

- Analyze an argumentative essay
- Construct an introduction for an argumentative essay
- Use transitions of contrast
- Identify and rebut opposing arguments
- Support your ideas using statistics
- Write, revise, and edit an argumentative essay about space travel

Changes in technology have had a dramatic effect on many different areas of life, including the workplace.

152

NEW!

Chapter objectives provide clear goals for instruction.

Realistic writing models present the type of writing students will learn to produce in the end-of-chapter Writing Assignments.

INTRODUCTION

An argumentative essay is an essay in which you agree or disagree on an issue, using reasons to support your opinion. Your goal is to convince your reader that your opinion is right. Argumentation is a popular kind of essay question because it forces students to think on their own. They have to take a stand on an issue, support their stand with solid reasons, and support their reasons with solid evidence. At the end of this chapter, you will write an argumentative essay about whether it is wise or practical to attempt to send a human mission to Mars.

ANALYZING THE MODEL

The writing model is about the role of technology in the modern workplace.

Read the model. Then answer the questions.

Writing Model

REPLACED BY A ROBOT

- 1 Ever since the invention of computers, technology has done more and more of the job of the average worker. From mathematical calculations to mailing lists, computers have become more efficient, in more areas, than their human colleagues. Although some argue that computers will never replace people, others are concerned about the advanced robotic technology that computers make possible. Indeed, it is likely that the use of more and better robots will someday result in fewer jobs for humans. However, this should not be seen as a problem. Rather, as technology improves, employers in all fields should look to maximize their robotic workforce and minimize human error.
- 2 Until now, many have argued that robots can only replace humans in certain less-skilled jobs. They might, for example, be able to perform routine tasks on an assembly line. These opponents of a mechanized workforce may not be aware that technology has progressed in the areas of decision-making and creativity. Some robots' work in these areas is almost equal to that of humans. In fact, some interactive computers are so well-designed that it will soon be possible to talk with them almost endlessly before realizing that they are not human (Loftus). A computer even won the game show Jeopardy not long ago. These computers are clearly capable of more than simple tasks.
- 3 Others argue that, even though computers may someday be able to approximate human behavior, humans will always be able to do the job better. While that may be true for a general-purpose robot, highly-specialized machines can often do specific tasks better than a

NEW!

Noticing Vocabulary points out useful words and phrases from the writing models.

Noticing Vocabulary: Word Families

Good writers use a wide range of vocabulary. You can quickly improve your vocabulary by studying word families. Word families are groups of words that are related. Words in a word family often have similar meanings but are different parts of speech. For example, notice the word successful in the model. The words success, succeed, successful, and successfully belong to the same word family.

PRACTICE 1 Identifying Words in Word Families

A Look at the writing model again. Find and underline the words in the chart. Then complete the chart. Use a dictionary as needed.

Verb	Adjective	Adverb
agree	aggressive	aggressively
create
dominate	disrespectful
influence
submit	passive
use	unproductive

B Notice the word endings in the chart in Part A. List the ending(s) for each part of speech.

Verbs: -sist
Adjectives: _____
Adverbs: _____

NEW!

Applying Vocabulary allows students to practice the new vocabulary and then use it in their writing assignments.

Applying Vocabulary: Using Word Families

You have learned that recognizing words in word families can help you build your vocabulary. You also identified several patterns for word endings. This information can help you use the correct form of a word in your writing.

PRACTICE 10 Reviewing Words in Word Families

Before you begin your writing assignment, review the word families chart on page 4. Then fill in the blank in each sentence with the word from the chart that best fits. Think about the meaning and part of speech.

1. My neighbor's dog is very _____. He bites everyone who comes near him.
2. The team took a(n) _____ approach to the negotiations, agreeing to everything the other side proposed, and making no demands.
3. Some people try to _____ the conversation; they never let anyone else speak.
4. Employees who behave _____ in salary negotiations do not point out how they can contribute to the company, do not clearly state their financial expectations, and, as a result, are not likely to receive a competitive wage.
5. In American culture, it is not appropriate to try to _____ a teacher's decision about your grade by giving him or her presents or compliments.

Writing Tip

If there's a word you want to use in your writing, but it's the wrong part of speech, check your dictionary. You may be able to find a word from the same word family that fits your sentence.

NEW!

Writing Tips provide useful strategies to help students produce better writing.

THE WRITING PROCESS

Writing is a process, and like any process, it consists of a series of steps. While the exact number of steps in the process may vary, this book will take you through six of them. You will be following these steps as you do the writing assignments in each chapter, so it is important that you have an idea of how each step in the process works.

Step 1: Prewrite to get ideas.

The first step in the writing process is to choose a topic and generate ideas. This is called prewriting because you do it before you begin writing. Even if a topic has already been assigned, you will still need to generate ideas about it in order to decide what you want to write.

There are many different methods you can use to come up with ideas to get started. You will have an opportunity to practice different techniques in your chapter assignments.

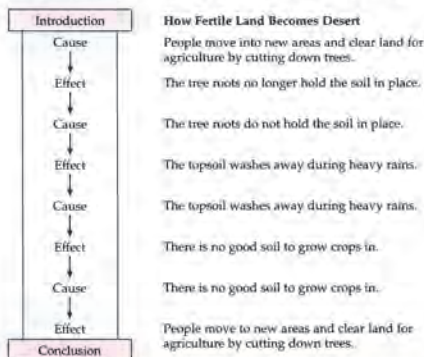

Organization sections explore essay structure in a variety of organizational patterns.

CHAIN ORGANIZATION

The other organizational pattern you can use to write about causes and effects is chain organization. Writing Model 2 on page 119 uses this organizational style.

In Writing Model 2, causes and effects are linked to each other in a continuous chain. One event (a change in seasons), causes another event (decreased sunlight), which causes a third event (disturbance in both hormonal balance and the body's natural clock), which in turn causes a fourth event (the development of depressive symptoms), and so on. Each new cause and its effect are links in a chain, with the effect of one event becoming the cause of the next event. Depending on the complexity of the ideas in each link, you can devote an entire paragraph to one link, or you may include several links in one paragraph, or you may describe the entire chain in one paragraph. Chain organization usually works better than block organization when the causes and effects are too closely linked to be separated. Notice the chain pattern in this diagram.

Writing Tip

The type of organization you choose depends on your topic.

- A chain pattern is usually easier if the causes and effects are very closely interrelated, as in an explanation of a natural phenomenon such as a thunderstorm.
- The block pattern is usually easier with larger, complex topics such as global warming or homelessness.
- Sometimes you will want to use a combination of block and chain organization. Writing Model 1 on pages 117–119 uses mostly block organization, but in paragraphs 4, 5, and 6, you will find chain organization.

Cause / Effect Essays 123

Practice activities reinforce learning and lay the groundwork for the end-of-chapter Writing Assignment.

PRACTICE 3 Analyzing Chain Organization

Fill in the boxes to complete the flowchart, which illustrates the cause / effect chain described in Writing Model 2.

TRY IT OUT!

Choose one of the topics and, on a separate sheet of paper, write two outlines: one for block organization and one for chain organization.

Topics

- The psychological causes of Internet addiction
- The effect of job loss on mental health
- The psychological effects of violent video games and movies

TRANSITION SIGNALS FOR CAUSE / EFFECT RELATIONSHIPS

Just as certain transition signals show time order and logical division, certain words and phrases signal cause / effect relationships. You may already know many of them. This chart and the one on page 126 will help you review them.

CAUSE SIGNAL WORDS
Coordinators	Examples
for	Bison were indispensable to the Native American tribes, for this one animal provided them with nearly everything they needed for survival: meat, clothing, shelter, tools, and weapons. (Note: When used in this way, for has the same meaning as because .) However, you must use a comma in front of for , and you must not use a comma in front of because .
Subordinators	Examples
because since as	Bison were indispensable to the Native American tribes as this one animal provided them with nearly everything they needed for survival: meat, clothing, shelter, tools, and weapons.

124 CHAPTER 6

NEW!

Try It Out! activities challenge students to apply what they have learned.

Transition Signals sections provide tools for improving the flow of ideas in different types of essays.

Chapter 3 provides instruction on using and citing outside sources and avoiding plagiarism.

CORRECT CITATIONS

The purpose of a citation is not only to avoid plagiarism, but also to refer your readers to the source of your information. That way, they can read the original source if they want to learn more about the topic. It is important to be accurate in your citations.

There are a number of different ways of citing information. In general, you will want to follow whatever guidelines your instructor gives you to complete an assignment. However, for most of your academic work, you will find this two-stage process useful and sufficient for citing your sources:

1. Insert a short reference in parentheses at the end of each piece of borrowed information. This short reference is called an in-text citation.
2. Prepare a list describing all your sources completely. This list is titled "Works Cited" and appears as the last page of your paper.

In-Text Citations

Here are three examples of in-text citations and of their corresponding entries in a works-cited list. In the first example, notice the position and punctuation of the citation—at the end of the last sentence of the borrowed information, before the final period.

According to the National Geographic "Enduring Voices" project, a language dies every two weeks ("Disappearing Languages").

The phrase "Disappearing Languages" in quotation marks and parentheses at the end of this sentence is the first element of the title of an article from which the preceding information was taken. There was no author. If there had been an author, the author's last name—rather than part of a title—would have appeared inside the parentheses, with no quotation marks. Because the article was found on the Internet, it did not have a page number.

Here is an example of an in-text citation for an article with an author and page number:

(Bryson 17)

If you include a quotation in your writing that you found in someone else's work, indicate the source of that quotation. Your in-text citation will say qtd. in, which is an abbreviation for quoted in:

(qtd. in Bryson 17)

The same chapter teaches other essential tools for research-based writing, such as paraphrasing, quoting, and summarizing.

WRITING A SUCCESSFUL PARAPHRASE

To paraphrase correctly, you first need to make sure that you fully understand the original passage. Use this method to write a good paraphrase.

- Read the original passage several times until you understand it fully. Underline the key words. Look up unfamiliar words and find synonyms for them. It is not always possible to find synonyms for every word, especially technical vocabulary. In this case, use the original word.
- Take notes while you read. Write down only a few words for each idea—not complete sentences. Here are one writer's notes on the original passage about universal language:

Language—people use to communicate—but so many difficult to understand one another—people wish—universal international language—reasons: cultural, economic bonds, better feelings between countries.

- Make a brief outline:

A. Language—people use to communicate
 1. So many languages make it difficult to understand one another.
 2. People wish for one universal international language.
 B. Reasons:
 1. Cultural, economic bonds
 2. Better feelings between countries.

- Write your paraphrase from your notes. Don't look at the original while you are writing.
- Check your paraphrase against the original to make sure you have not copied vocabulary or sentence structure too closely. Above all, make sure that you have not changed the meaning of the original or given any wrong information.
- Add in-text citations. Also add a works-cited list if appropriate.

Step-by-step Writing Assignments make the writing process clear and easy to follow.

WRITING ASSIGNMENT

Your assignment for this chapter is to write an essay of five or more paragraphs on a topic related to education. Choose one of the topics from the list to write about. Use the writing model on pages 75–76 to help you. To complete the assignment, follow the steps in the writing process.

Topics

- Criteria to consider when choosing a major
- Qualities of a successful student
- Factors that make a class productive and enjoyable

Prewrite

STEP 1: Prewrite to get ideas.

- After selecting your topic, use a prewriting strategy such as listing (Chapter 1) or clustering (Chapter 2) to generate ideas.
- Look for related points in your list or cluster diagram. If you find anything that is completely off topic or repeated, cross it out.
- Group similar ideas together. These groups will become your body paragraphs.

Organize

STEP 2: Organize your ideas.

- Decide how you want to organize your essay. Do you want to use a comparison /contrast pattern? A logical division of ideas?
- Write a thesis statement for your essay. Be sure it indicates the organization pattern you plan to use.
- Use ideas from your prewrite to make an outline as you did in Practice 10. Put your thesis statement at the top. Then, next to letters A, B, and C, write sentences that will form the topic sentences of your body paragraphs.
- In the spaces under A, B, and C, add details you will use in your body paragraphs.

Write

STEP 3: Write the first draft.

- Use your outline to write your first draft. Remember to include the three parts of the essay that you studied in this chapter: an introductory paragraph (including the thesis statement), body paragraphs, and a conclusion.
- Don't worry if you think of new ideas as you write. You can add or delete ideas later. Just be sure that your new ideas support your thesis.

Revise

STEP 4: Revise the draft.

- Review the content and organization of your draft. Do not try to correct errors in format, mechanics (capitalization, punctuation, and spelling), grammar, and sentence structure at this stage. You will do this in Step 5.

98 CHAPTER 4

Peer Review and Writer's Self-Check Worksheets at the back of the book help students collaborate and sharpen their revision skills.

- Begin by reading over your essay to get a general overview. As you read, make sure that
  - your essay has a thesis statement;
  - the thesis is developed with enough supporting information;
  - you support your opinions with facts and examples;
  - your conclusion supports your thesis statement.
- Make notes in the margin about anything you want to improve.
- Ask a classmate to read and give you feedback on your first draft using the Chapter 4 Peer Review on page 327.
- Discuss your classmate's suggestions and decide which ones to take.

Proofread

STEP 5: Edit and proofread the draft.

- Make sure that you have identified all of the changes you want to make in content and organization. Then review your essay for errors in format, mechanics, grammar, and sentence structure. Use the Chapter 4 Writer's Self-Check on page 328 to help you.
- When you find an error, make a note on your paper using the correction symbols from Appendix D on pages 309–311.

Write

STEP 6: Write a new draft.

- In your new draft, include the changes you identified in Steps 4 and 5.
- Proofread your new draft again carefully. Make sure it is neat and error free.
- Hand in your essay to your teacher.

NEW!

Self-Assessment encourages students to evaluate their progress.

SELF-ASSESSMENT

In this chapter, you learned to:

- Identify the parts of an essay
- Analyze an essay's introduction and conclusion
- Construct an appropriate thesis statement
- Support the thesis statement with body paragraphs
- Organize an essay, using transition signals as necessary
- Write, revise, and edit an essay about education

Which ones can you do well? Mark them ☑

Which ones do you need to practice more? Mark them ☹

From Paragraph to Essay 99

EXPANSION

TIMED WRITING

In this expansion, you will write an essay in class. As you write, focus on using the techniques for logical division essays that you learned in this chapter. You will have 50 minutes. To complete the expansion in time, you will need to budget your time accordingly. Follow this procedure.

1. Read the writing prompt (or the prompt your teacher assigns) carefully. Choose one topic to write about. Make sure you understand the question or task. You may want to underline the key words in the prompt. (5 minutes)
2. Brainstorm to get ideas, write a thesis statement, and make a rough outline to organize your ideas. (10 minutes)
3. Write your essay. Be sure to include an introductory paragraph with your thesis statement, body paragraphs, and a concluding paragraph. (25 minutes)
4. Check your essay for errors. Correct any mistakes. (10 minutes)
5. Give your paper to your teacher.

Prompt: Write a logical division essay about one of these topics:

- Different kinds of teachers
- Benefits of learning a new language
- Three educational experiences that inspired you

USING QUOTES AND PARAPHRASES TO SUPPORT IDEAS

Write an essay about the challenges of education in a new culture. Use information given by students who have had this experience and experts in the field of international education. Quote, summarize, and paraphrase your outside sources as appropriate.

- If possible, interview individuals about the topic of your essay. Write down their answers. Then look at their answers to see which will help to explain and expand the ideas you are discussing in your essay.
- Use the Internet to find information about your topic. Find two or three websites with detailed information or expert opinions that you think will make your ideas clearer to the reader.

Remember to include in-text citations and a works-cited list to inform your readers about your sources. In doing so, you not only show your readers that you can speak authoritatively on the topic, but you also give them a chance to do further reading themselves.

NEW!

Timed Writing activities help prepare students to write well on tests.

NEW!

Additional writing tasks encourage students to further develop the writing skills in each chapter.

NEW!

Separate chapters on Sentence Structure provide practice with the most challenging structures for high-intermediate students. The chapters can be taught in any order.

Simple explanations and clear examples enable students to improve their grasp of subordinate structures and their punctuation.

Questions about the Model

1. When do people with a fear of public speaking become paralyzed? Underline the adverb clause in sentence 3 that provides this information. What word introduces this clause?
2. Why do individuals with this fear sometimes take classes? Double underline the adverb clauses in sentences 7 and 8 that provide this information. What words introduce each clause?
3. Where do these individuals see unfriendly faces? Triple underline the clause in sentence 4 that provides this information. What word introduces this clause?
4. What contrast is established by the adverb clause in sentence 9? What words introduce this clause?

KINDS OF ADVERB CLAUSES

These are the various kinds of adverb clauses. In the pages that follow, you will study and practice each kind.

- Time clauses answer the question "When?"
- Place clauses answer the question "Where?"
- Clauses of manner answer the question "How?"
- Distance clauses answer the question "How far?"
- Frequency clauses answer the question "How often?"
- Purpose clauses answer the question "For what intention?"
- Result clauses answer the question "For what effect?"
- Conditional clauses answer the question "Under what circumstance?"
- Contrast clauses of direct opposition show how one thing differs from another.
- Contrast clauses of concession show an unexpected result.

Punctuation of Adverb Clauses

The punctuation of an adverb clause depends on the order of the clauses. When an adverb clause comes first in a sentence, put a comma after it. When an adverb clause follows an independent clause, do not separate the clauses with a comma.

El Niño

Scientists have been studying an ocean event who is the cause of drastic changes in weather around the world. This event is an increase in the temperature of the Pacific Ocean that occurs around Christmas off the coast of Peru. Hence, the Peruvian fishermen whom first noticed it named it El Niño, a name that means "the Christ child" in Spanish. The causes of this rise in ocean temperatures are unknown, but its effects are obvious and devastating.

For example, El Niño threatens Peru's anchovy harvest, which could mean higher prices for food. The warm water of El Niño keeps the nutrient-rich cold water which provides anchovies with food down at the bottom of the ocean. Anchovies are the primary source of fish meal which is the main ingredient in animal feed.

In addition, guano<sup>1</sup> from birds who feed off the anchovies is a major source of fertilizer. As a result of decreasing supplies of anchovies and guano, the prices of animal feed, and fertilizer rise. This causes farmers, who they must pay more for feed and fertilizer, to charge more for the food they produce. Food prices have soared as a result of El Niños in past years.

El Niño has other global effects. It can cause heavy rains, floods, and mudslides along the coasts of North and South America and droughts in other parts of the world. In the 1982-1983 El Niño, West Africa suffered a terrible drought which caused crop failures and food shortages. Lack of rain also created problems for Indonesia whose forests burned for months during the 1997-1998 El Niño. Indeed, El Niño is an unpredictable and uncontrollable phenomenon of nature, that we need to study it in order to prepare for and perhaps lessen its devastating effects in the future.

CHAPTER 1

PARAGRAPH STRUCTURE

OBJECTIVES

To write academic texts, you need to master certain skills.

In this chapter, you will learn to:

- Identify the parts of a paragraph
- Construct an appropriate topic sentence
- Support the topic sentence with details and examples
- Distinguish facts from opinions
- Use a concluding sentence to complete a paragraph
- Write, revise, and edit a paragraph about communication

It is important to pay attention to your communication style if you want to be successful.

INTRODUCTION

In this chapter, you will focus on the structure of a good paragraph. A paragraph is a group of related sentences that discusses one (and usually only one) main idea. A paragraph can be as short as one sentence or as long as ten sentences or more. The number of sentences is unimportant; however, the paragraph should be long enough to develop the main idea clearly. At the end of this chapter, you will write a well-structured paragraph on the topic of communication. For an example of a well-structured paragraph, look at the model.

ANALYZING THE MODEL

The writing model discusses communication styles.

Read the model. Then answer the questions.

Writing Model

Communication Styles That Don't Communicate

1 Studies show that certain styles of interpersonal communication are less effective than others. 2 Which styles are the ones to avoid? 3 These same studies indicate that the two least effective styles are aggressive and passive communication. 4 On the one hand, an aggressive style involves speaking in a disrespectful manner, expressing anger, or trying to dominate the conversation. 5 For example, a business executive might tell her coworker that his ideas for a new product are terrible. 6 Then she might interrupt him when he tries to explain his ideas. 7 This approach hinders successful communication. 8 It also creates barriers between people. 9 A passive communication style, on the other hand, can be equally unproductive. 10 A passive style might lead a person to hide his or her beliefs, speak quietly, and submit to all demands. 11 Someone working on a fashion design project, for instance, might agree to use a fabric that he thinks is unattractive. 12 He would not express his true feelings to the group. 13 In short, ineffective communicators can fail to influence others either by being too forceful or by hiding their opinions.

Questions about the Model

1. What is the main idea of the paragraph?
2. In which sentence does the writer state the main idea?
3. How does sentence 3 support the main idea?
4. What points does the writer make about an aggressive style?
5. In which sentence does the writer introduce an example of an aggressive style?
6. What points does the writer make about a passive style?
7. In which sentence does the writer introduce an example of a passive style?

 Noticing Vocabulary: Word Families

Good writers use a wide range of vocabulary. You can quickly improve your vocabulary by studying word families. Word families are groups of words that are related. Words in a word family often have similar meanings but are different parts of speech. For example, notice the word successful in the model. The words success, succeed, successful, and successfully belong to the same word family.

PRACTICE 1 Identifying Words in Word Families

- A Look at the writing model again. Find and underline the words in the chart. Then complete the chart. Use a dictionary as needed.

VERB	ADJECTIVE	ADVERB
-----	aggressive	aggressively agree
create
-----	disrespectful
dominate influence
-----	passive submit
-----	unproductive
use

- B Notice the word endings in the chart in Part A. List the ending(s) for each part of speech.

Verbs: -ate _____

Adjectives: _____

Adverbs: _____

PARTS OF A PARAGRAPH

Paragraphs generally include three parts. All paragraphs have a topic sentence and supporting sentences. Most paragraphs also have a concluding sentence.

THE TOPIC SENTENCE

Every good paragraph has a topic sentence. A topic sentence is the most important sentence in a paragraph.

The topic sentence briefly indicates what the paragraph is going to discuss. For this reason, the topic sentence is a helpful guide to both the writer and the reader. The writer can see what information to include (and what information to exclude). The reader can see what the paragraph is going to be about and is therefore better prepared to understand it. For example, in the writing model, the topic sentence alerts the reader to look for communication styles that are ineffective.

Here are three important points to remember about a topic sentence:

- A topic sentence is a complete sentence; that is, it contains at least one subject and one verb. These examples are not complete sentences because they do not contain a subject and a verb:

INCOMPLETE Communicating with colleagues.

INCOMPLETE How to improve online social networks.

- A topic sentence contains two parts: a topic and a controlling idea. It names the topic and then limits the topic to a specific area to be discussed in the space of a single paragraph.

Communication with colleagues requires sensitivity and understanding.

Improving online social networks can help professionals communicate.

- A topic sentence is the most general statement in the paragraph because it gives only the topic and the controlling idea. It does not give any specific details.

This is a general statement that could serve as a topic sentence:

The Arabic origin of many English words is not always obvious.

This sentence is too general. It doesn't provide much guidance about what the paragraph will be about.

English has been influenced by other languages.

On the other hand, this sentence is too specific. It could serve as a supporting sentence but not as a topic sentence.

The slang expression so long (meaning "good-bye") is probably a corruption of the Arabic salaam.

The Position of Topic Sentences

The topic sentence is usually (but not always) the first sentence in a paragraph. Experienced writers sometimes put topic sentences in other locations, but the best spot is usually right at the beginning. Readers who are used to the English way of writing want to know what they will read about as soon as they begin reading.

Synonyms, words with the same basic meaning, do not always have the same emotional meaning. For example, stingy and frugal both mean “careful with money.” However, calling someone stingy is an insult, but calling someone frugal is usually a compliment. Similarly, a person wants to be slender but not skinny. Therefore, you should be careful in choosing words as many so-called synonyms are not completely synonymous.

At times, a topic sentence comes at the end of the paragraph. In this case, the paragraph might begin with a series of examples or facts. Then the topic sentence at the end would be the conclusion drawn from these examples or facts.

Mediation is now a popular way to solve disagreements between children in school. A mediator can also help a divorcing couple discuss finances or improve communication between employees and company executives. These are a few ways that mediators can help opposing parties come to agreement.

PRACTICE 2

Choosing Topic Sentences

Decide which sentence in each group is the best topic sentence and label it best. Then look at the other sentences in the group and label them TG (too general), TS (too specific), or I (incomplete).

GROUP 1

- TS a. A lunar eclipse is an omen of a coming disaster.
TG b. Superstitions have been around forever.
best c. People hold many superstitious beliefs about the moon.
I d. Is made of green cheese.

GROUP 3

 _____ b. In some large ocean fish, there are high levels of mercury.
 _____ c. Undercooked chicken and hamburger may carry E. coli bacteria.
 _____ d. Not to mention mad cow disease.

- _____ c. Hybrid cars have good fuel economy because a computer under the hood decides to run the electric motor, the small gasoline engine, or the two together.
- _____ d. The new hybrid automobiles are popular because of their fuel economy.

PRACTICE 3*Recognizing Topic Sentences

Read the sentences in each group and decide which is the topic sentence. Label it TS (topic sentence). (Hint: Remember that the topic sentence is the most general statement in a paragraph.)

PARAGRAPH 1

- _____ a. A notes / memo function lets you make quick notes to yourself.
- _____ b. Other capabilities include word processing, spreadsheets, and email.
- _____ c. A voice recorder that uses a built-in microphone and speaker works like a tape recorder.
- _____ d. Basic tools include an appointment calendar, an address book, to-do lists, and a calculator.
- _____ e. MP3 playback lets you listen to digital music files, and a picture viewer lets you look at digital photos.
- _____ f. Most smart phones have tools for basic tasks as well as for multimedia functions.
- _____ g. A few models also include a built-in digital camera and keyboard.
